Who can update pages?

- “If you’re creating a page for your organization, it’s good to keep in mind that pages can have multiple managers. This means that multiple people can act on behalf of the page -- and you won’t need to share your account information with them. Also, if you create a page for your organization and you don’t want to be the owner anymore, you can transfer ownership to someone else.”

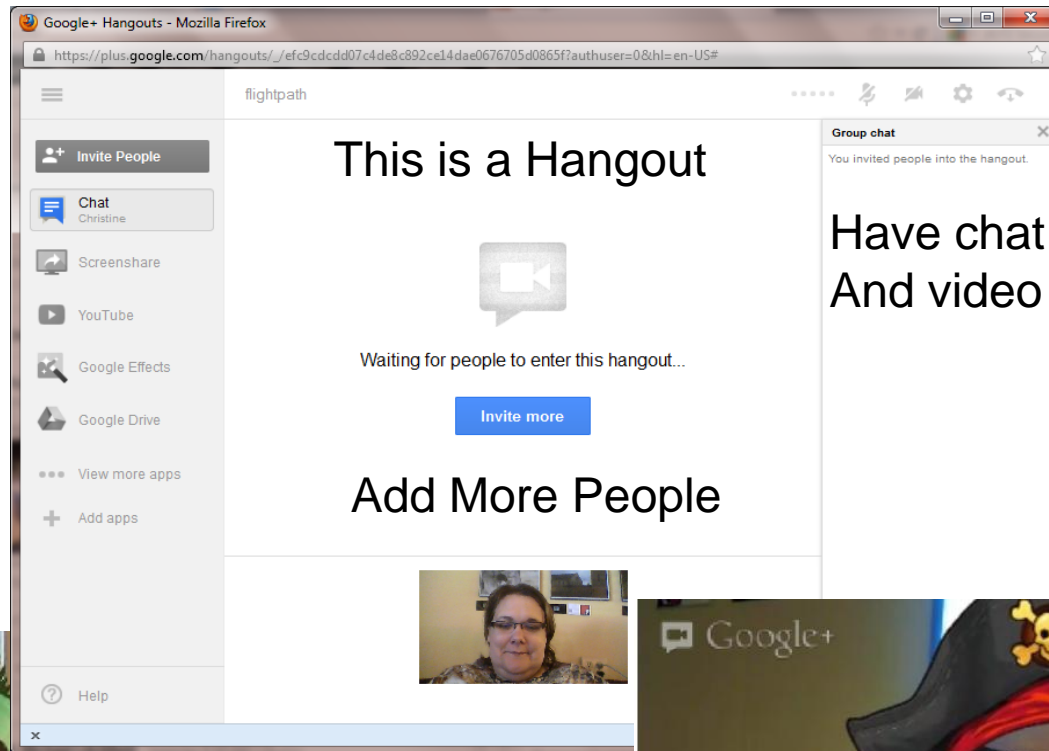

Interact with Others – LIVE!

The screenshot shows the Google+ 'Start a Hangout' interface. At the top, the Google+ logo is on the left, and the text 'Name this hangout...' is on the right. Below this, the heading 'Start a Hangout' is prominently displayed. A subtext reads: 'Hanging out is fun with friends. Start typing below or click a friend to invite them.' There is a large text input field with the placeholder '+ Add names, circles, or email addresses'. To the right of this field is a blue link '+telephone'. Below the input field is another text input field labeled 'Name this hangout'. Further down, there is a checkbox labeled 'Enable Hangouts On Air' with a question mark icon. To the right of this checkbox is a yellow callout box containing the text 'New! Hangouts On Air', 'Broadcast and record your Hangouts.', and a 'Learn more' link. At the bottom left is a blue button labeled 'Hang out'. At the bottom right of the yellow callout box is a blue button labeled 'Okay, got it!'. A link 'Hangout Options' is also visible below the 'Enable Hangouts On Air' checkbox.
